The Herrett Center for Arts and Science in Twin Falls, Idaho is home to one of the most complete Peruvian textile collections in the world, not to mention a great deal of Peruvian ceramics and many other South American collections. Unfortunately, they cannot be viewed by the general public on any given day due to storage restrictions; however the anthropology club is looking into arranging a viewing of part of these collections. Jim Woods, the museum's curator, has agreed to try and allow this special event to occur during the first part of November. The trip to Twin Falls (approximately 2 hours) will more than likely happen on a Saturday or Sunday, and minimal transportation charges may apply. The number of students allowed will be limited, so those students who are highly interested should show up at Anthropology Club meetings between now and then, or contact other club members outside of the meetings.

UPCOMING EVENTS

Weekly Anthropology Club Meeting

Thursdays @2pm
In the SUB*

Come one, come all.
The weekly meeting is open to anyone who wants to stop by.
You don't even have to be a member to discuss upcoming events and ideas for community service.

*Check the SUB Meeting Board

Fall Events

• Majors Meeting—Thursday, October 23, 2:00 pm, Sub Hatch C
• Field Trip to Herrett—November?
• IAS Meeting—Saturday, October 25
• Katharine Seibold—Departmental Speakers Series: Monday, October 27, 2:30 pm, Sub Hatch D
• Christmas Party—December 18 (maybe?) at Bogie's

Contact Information

Mary Wallace
President
424-1770

Peter Carlson
Vice President
850-0461

Elisa Carlsen
Treasurer
331-9752

Amelia Berg
Secretary
395-0452

Send email to Anthro-club_bsu@hotmail.com

Boise State University

Boise State University

IN THIS ISSUE:

Club News and Announcements
Christmas Party
Herrett Center Trip
Where in the World is Chris Willson?
An IAS Moment from the Antelope Creek Rockshelter
Mammoth Jaw and Bear Vest: The Unauthorized Biographies of Two New Professors

It's McCarl/Miller Time—Applied Anthropology takes a Field Trip to the Library's Archives

Field School Photos

THE HERRETT CENTER TRIP

by Bradley Burkett

The Herrett Center for Arts and Science in Twin Falls, Idaho is home to one of the most complete Peruvian textile collections in the world, not to mention a great deal of Peruvian ceramics and many other South American collections. Unfortunately, they cannot be viewed by the general public on any given day due to storage restrictions; however the anthropology club is looking into arranging a viewing of part of these collections. Jim Woods, the museum's curator, has agreed to try and allow this special event to occur during the first part of November. The trip to Twin Falls (approximately 2 hours) will more than likely happen on a Saturday or Sunday, and minimal transportation charges may apply. The number of students allowed will be limited, so those students who are highly interested should show up at Anthropology Club meetings between now and then, or contact other club members outside of the meetings.