THE ARCH BEAT:
Welcome Back to School!

Welcome to the ARCH BEAT, the new monthly publication created by the Archaeological Students Association. This is a newsletter for anthropology majors interested in archaeology. ASA would like to extend a welcome to new and returning students! This year is a year of new beginnings for the club and we have ambitious goals to be a more active group within BSU and the community. For those interested in becoming actively involved in the Anthropology Department and has an interest in Archaeology, feel free to contact any of the officers of ASA to learn how to get involved.

GREETINGS FROM THE DIRECTOR:

Hello fellow arch nerds! I want to welcome you all to the 2011-2012 school year! My name is Matt Douraghi. I’m currently in my senior year here at Boise State University. I’m excited to say that I am the new director for ASA as well! I’m looking forward to a productive, fun and exciting year in hopes of creating a strong academic base within ASA. I look forward to working with all of you over the course of the next year.

Matt Douraghi, Director
